Summer Issue of NetworkNews Now Available

Friday, July 16, 2004 – The Summer edition of our quarterly newsletter, NetworkNews, is now available on the CPRN Web site.

In this issue, a look at the legal routes to achieving accountability in health care, along with recent cases and their consequences, part of the Health Network's Health Care Accountability Papers.

There are articles on additional studies in the Family Network's series, the Social Architecture Papers, on revamping policies for Aboriginal peoples and comparing governance models in Europe and Canada.

You will also find a report on CPRN's dialogue with Ontario citizens on their government's budget choices.

And, of course, there are the usual photos and news of CPRN friends, Board and staff.

Finally, there's the feature column from our President, Judith Maxwell. In this issue, she explores Europe's approach to complex, or "wicked", social issues and its relevance to Canada.
